

SMARTER RENTCafé™ Learn More

Property listing with online leasing and mobile access, integrated with Yardi Voyager

RENTCafé

Hickok Cole Architects' Laurence Caudle, AIA Elevated to Principal

Mar 5, 2012

Share / Save

Washington, D.C.—Laurence Caudle, AIA, Director of Housing, has been elevated to principal at Hickok Cole Architects. Caudle has over 20 years' experience with custom residential projects, mixed-use projects, and commercial base building design. His current projects include Fort Totten Square, the mixed-use development with 130,000 square feet retail and 340 units in Washington, DC; and Reston Station, the 850,000 square feet mixed-use, transit oriented building being constructed adjacent to the new Reston Station Metro facility.

Related Posts:

- Berkadia Hires Top Producer Mitch Thurston and Associate Andy Ahlers
- Red Capital Group Announces Promotions of James F. Croft and Robert T. Kirkwood
- National Multi Housing Council Promotes Kim Duty To SVP
- Oak Grove Capital Announces Andrew Deming as VP of Trading
- RED CAPITAL GROUP's Tracy Peters Joins National Housing & Rehabilitation Association Board